

Just like the quilt trails in the mountains of North Carolina, only closer! The Quilt Trails of the Tar & Roanoke Rivers brings this tradition to the Piedmont counties that border these rivers. Enjoyable not only for quilting enthusiasts, the trail aspires to educate and provide history on the region. Each block features a pattern inspired by the place where it hangs and will be recorded in the Tar & Roanoke Rivers Quilt Trail Guide that will delve deeper into the rich heritage and stories of the region, relaying the significance of each block.
